Richmond Bay Campus Vision

A state-of-the-art, inspirational and sustainable place to produce world-class collaborative science for healthy living and sustainable communities

A center of innovation for national and international academic, government, non-profit and industry partners

Solutions for 21st century challenges in energy, environment, human health, and the global economy.

The Project: A University of California Long Range Development Plan for RBC

- A physical development and land use plan that establishes land use patterns and policies to guide long-term implementation of facilities and infrastructure
- Accompanied by environmental review (CEQA) which describes potential impacts that could result from physical development
- Does NOT address issues of community benefits or economic development.

South Shoreline Specific Plan Area

RBC in the Community – Shared Values

Strengthen our institutional partnerships with the Richmond Community and find ways to work together that provide mutual benefit to the Campus, Lab and Richmond Community.

Be an engine for economic development and innovation locally and regionally.

Encourage partnerships for education, workforce development, and career readiness – PreK-Adult.
